Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Friday 06 Aug 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Unsettled, heavy showers for most.

Today:
Rain across northeast Scotland slowly easing later. Otherwise, a mixture of sunny spells and heavy, thundery downpours, some of these slow-moving across central and northern areas. Windy in the south.

Tonight:
Showers dying out for many but continuing in north. Risk of persistent and heavy rain across parts of north Wales and northwest England. Windy in south and far north.

Saturday:
Showers developing widely with sunny spells in between. Showers likely to be heavy and thundery in places, and slow-moving across western Scotland, Northern Ireland and northwest England at times.

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Heavy showers in the north Sunday, drier with sunny spells in the south. Heavy showers across many areas Monday before a mostly dry day Tuesday with spells of sunshine.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.